Information Sheet – Bike the Andes

Fully Guided – 24 days from Mendoza to Cuzco

A real kaleidoscope of the Andes, Argentina – Bolivia – Peru

This varied adventure gives you the opportunity to explore bustling colourful Andean markets and villages of rural Argentina, Bolivia and Peru and to discover the mysteries of the Inca Empire, still alive today. The tour has been designed for those keen on Mountain Biking at a medium pace with a mix of biking and sightseeing through some of the more remote but spectacular parts of the Andes. You should be of good fitness and capable of biking 50-60 km in a day. There is a back up support vehicle if you do not feel like biking all the way or prefer to sightsee. We will be biking at altitudes between 500m up to 4700m in La Paz, the highest point.

We start in Mendoza at the foot of the Andes with some wonderful wine tasting, and enjoying a spectacular downhill ride in the mid-sierra of the Andes. We then pass through to Argentina's Colonial Northwest, the region of Salta and the Calchaqui Valley with its amazing desert landscapes, wonderful colonial towns and hospitable people, the results of an ancient indigenous culture, mixed with colonial Spanish heritage. We spend 7 days biking through this region, with its dry spring climate (av. 15-22 C) up to an altitude of 3000m. The next stop is the scenic Humahuaca Gorge, with its fascinating landscape, especially the Cerro de los Siete Colores of Purmamarca and the Salinas Grande salt flats.

We travel overland by train into Bolivia, across the altiplano to "Salar de Uyuni", the largest & highest salt lake in the world. Stay in a hotel made entirely out of salt! On to La Paz for the world's most spectacular downhill ride, 65km from 4700m down to 1200m. Incredible variety!

Our journey then takes us across Lake Titicaca and the altiplano to the charming colonial city of Cuzco – Heart of the Inca Empire. Wonder at the remarkable monument of Sacsayhuaman, villages of Chinchero and Ollantaytambo and Pisaq. Explore the Sacred Valley by bike. Marvel at the fine workmanship and location of magical Machu Picchu. There is an opportunity for the 1 day Inca Trail hike.

Optional tour to the Cloud Forest and down to the Lowland Rainforest of the Manu Biosphere Reserve.

What our clients are saying

The trip was amazingly cheap for what was provided. It provided a fabulous combination of hard exercise and socialising. Riding through magnificent scenery, covered in dust at the end of the day - collapsing in the foyers of lovely hosterias with awaiting cervezas or G+Ts – a fantastic trip

Reta & Grant –Tauranga –Bike the Andes '10

An amazing trip . Thank you both for the superb organisation. "Camp Mother" – you were amazing!

Richard & Jan –Ashburton –Bike the Andes '13

Accommodation, organisation and everything exceeded our expectations

Charlie & Janet –Nelson –Bike the Andes '13

Accommodation well above expectations . Excellent bike guides

James –Timaru – Bike the Andes '13

All the guides were helpful and diplomatic and unruffled. This led to a very happy and satisfied group

Graham & Kay -Bike the Andes '15

The trip was a real adventure , just what we wanted

Bill & Adrienne -Auckland -Bike the Andes '17

We had a great trip to South America and loved Argentina.

The organisation was exceptional and we were well looked after e- thank you!

People were so keen to provide good service that it made NZ look a bit average in comparison.

We always felt safe and appreciated the extra help making bus/train/flight connections which your guides provided.

Special moments:

Exceptional service was provided in Salta by the two guides Nacho and Daniela . We loved them both and they were great company. They added the extra that made Argentina special for us

Day	Date	Program	Overnight
1	Fri	Mendoza For those travelling from NZ you can travel LATAM Airlines via Santiago with a connection to Mendoza. On arrival you will be transferred to your hotel . Accommodation: Huentala Hotel https://huentala.com Mendoza, nestled in the foothills of the Andes Mountain Range, famous for nearby Mount Aconcagua, for its Malbec wines and for being the cradle of the heroic deeds of Liberator General San Martín, Father of this nation, it is one of the most beautiful and neat cities in the country. The climate in Mendoza is moderate-temperate, though its mountains provide a certain degree of aridity. Argentina is the fifth largest wine producing country in the world and the city of Mendoza itself is the hub of the Argentinean wine industry. The city life and busy plazas are surrounded by thousands of bodegas (wineries) that lie on the outskirts of town with over 350,000 acres of vines.	Mendoza

2	Sat	Mendoza Bike -Wine Tour You will visit a selection of three wineries, each representing different philosophies of wine production: with this tour you will discover the delights of the traditional family-owned winery and also gain an insight into the larger, commercial and more modern wineries, all of which are considered 'high-end'. This is the all-encompassing tour, offering the opportunity to learn about all aspects of the wine industry in Mendoza. “	Mendoza (B,L)
3	Sun	Mendoza This is a full day excursion into the mountainous landscape of Mendoza Province. The journey begins along route N°7 going by Potrerillos Dam, Uspallata, las Bovedas, Mt Tundqueral and the Ghost City of Paramillos. After arrival at Cruz de Paramillos and after our guide gives technical and security explanations, mount your bike for some uphill then a 29 km descent through the historical 365 curved road down to the Villavicencio Hotel, which opened its gates in 1940 and closed again in 1978. Affluent families from all round the country and from abroad would stay at the hotel to spend an entire season and enjoy the hot springs and their healing properties. Board our vehicle to begin the way back to Mendoza. 40 km of dirt & paved roads	Mendoza (B,L)
4	Mon	Mendoza – Salta Transfer to the airport for your flight to Salta and transfer to hotel Accommodation : Hotel Design Suites Hotel The Hispanic architecture of the city makes it stand out from the other cities in the country. The colonial spirit from its inception is evident in its houses, streets, hundred-year-old monuments and narrow sidewalks surrounded by the mountains nearby. Winter is warm and dry, with records of an annual average temperature of 22°C. Afternoon Mountain biking tour by the lush vegetation surrounding the town of San Lorenzo. There are several trails of varying degrees of difficulty ranging from easy-medium level to strenuous. San Lorenzo is a village near Salta, located in the foothills to the west of the Andes, which are known as Pre-cordillera or Cordillera Oriental. The architecture, in the main part of the city, is testimony to it's colonial history. Its environs retain one of the most complete biomes of northwestern Argentina, called Yungas or Selva Montana (Jungle that grows in the mountains). 35km of paved and dirt roads, a mix of easy, medium, strenuous	Salta (B) M

5	Tues	Salta- Cachi Travel to the south of the city to the village that produces Virginia tobacco, El Carril. From there, we enter the Escoipe Gorge. After climbing the Cuesta del Obispo (Bishop Slope), we reach the Piedra Del Molino (3,348 m). After admiring the views at the top, we mount our bikes and descend riding along Route 33 and then Route 40. We cycle through the Cardones National Park, the name given to the huge cacti that grow in the region. The cardones are protected. We arrive in Cachi, sleeping in a cozy hosteria. Accommodation: El Cortijo Hosteria 50 km of dirt roads. Elevation gain: 230m Uphill 1390m downhill.	Cachi (B,L)
6	Wed	Cachi – Molinos After breakfast, we ride a circuit in the environs of Cachi known as the Airport and Cemetery Circuit. We then prepare for the 55 km ride to Molinos. We transit the right side of the Calchaqui River, visiting places such as La Paya and El Colte, to the birthplace of the handcraft of Salta, called The Way of the Artisans. In Seclantas, we stop to gather the troops and tackle the hill to Molinos together, where we spend another night in the magical Calchaqui Valley, in a beautifully restored hacienda . Accommodation: Hacienda Molinos 55 km of dirt roads.	Molinos (B,L)
7	Thurs	Molinos – Cafayate After breakfast, we make a city tour of Molinos by bike, then travel by bus, 40 km to the village of Angastaco, along the legendary Route 40 which stretches the length of Argentina along the spine of the Andes, from the border with Bolivia down to Ushuaia, on the southern edge of the continent. This part of the journey gives us the opportunity to see the best examples of agricultural production in the Calchaqui Valley. The silence in the Valley and the spectacular scenery will captivate. In Angastaco we start pedaling through the narrow Gorge of the Arrows (Quebrada de Las Flechas), one of the most amazing sites in the Argentine Northwest. The eroded cliffs and slopes, with the high Andes off in the distance; create an almost surreal landscape, dazzling all that come through here. We arrived in San Carlos and continue by bus to the desert oasis of Cafayate, famous for its high altitude vineyards. The town of Cafayate is another highlight, the friendly inhabitants will make you welcome, as is the tradition of the Northwestern culture. Accommodation: Hotel Asturias 53 km of dirt & paved roads.	Cafayate (B,L)

8	Fri	Cafayate After breakfast explore the town and visit some of the wineries by bike. The main Plaza is the hub of the town and there are several bars, restaurants, with handicraft markets and artisanal food stores. There are a couple of artisanal breweries and ice cream parlours. When it comes to wineries, there are several to choose from. Your guide can help plan a circuit, where you can do some wine tastings, sample some food and make some purchases. A must to visit is the Bodega Piatelli, located on a plateau overlooking the Cafayate valley. It is one of the newer ones and also has a very popular restaurant. The area produces great malbecs, cabernet sauvignon and of recent times Tannat. The most notable achievement of the wine makers here, is the production of Torrontes, a white aromatic wine, grown at altitude. 30 km of dirt & paved road, with a little uphill	Cafayate (B,L)
9	Sat	Cafayate – Purmamarca Cycle through the Quebrada de las Conchas, another magical canyon offering enchanting landscapes of strange rock formations and eroded slopes exposing innumerable bands of colors. Similar to the US Western deserts, there are many rock formations to discover and the colours will change as the sun arches over and behind the canyon. We then continue by bus through the Lermas Valley and bypass Salta north, experiencing many changes in vegetation, to ascend into the Humahuaca Gorge region . Overnight in the picturesque small town of Purmamarca in a nice hosteria. Accommodation: Refugio de Cocquena Hosteria 50 km of paved roads	Purmamarca(B,L)
10	Sun	Purmamarca - Salinas Grande-Tilcara Another stunning day! We take an early morning ride around the 7 Colours Gorge with its amazing rock formations. Then set off on the road to the Salinas Grandes. These enormous salt flats, one of the largest in South America, are one of the most photographed places in northwest Argentina Following the steep trails up the Lipán, Saladillo and Abra de Potrerillos hills, we'll enjoy the impressive panoramic views of the rugged landscapes of Purmamarca. As we walk, we'll also discover the local wildlife. Keep your eyes peeled for the vicuñas and llamas along the route! Reaching the altitude of Salinas Grandes, at around 3,450 metres above sea level, you will be captivated by the sight of the expansive white desert stretching out before us. The vast salt flat, in contrast to the blue skies, is a striking image. Enjoy a ride on the salt flats. Return to Purmamarca and transfer to Tilcara Accommodation: Refugio del Pintor 25km of dirt/paved roads: 12km circuit Purmamarca easy	Salta (B,L)
11	Mon	Tilcara – Villazon Today travel by comfortable bus north through the Humahuaca Gorge to La Quiaca . Cross the border from La Quiaca to Villazon for overnight Accommodation: Hotel Casa Grande	Villazon (B)

12	Tues	Villazon -Uyuni By bus to Uyuni on the edge of the salt flats. The Salar de Uyuni (Salt Flats) is an area of outstanding beauty! Accommodation: Rosario Uyuni Hotel	Uyuni (B)
13	Wed	Salt Flats Start the day visiting the Train Cemetery and continue to Colchani where you will visit the salt processing and distribution centres. Drive across the Uyuni Salt Flats, watch how people extract blocks of salt and visit the first Hotel made of pure salt. Drive towards Fish Island (Inkawasi) and 25kms from the island, prepare to mount your bike to ride the rest of the way to the island (riding on the Salt Flat is a new initiative!). Inkawasi has impressive plantings of cacti and is home to the tallest cactus in the world. You can walk up to the top of the island and enjoy the views. See the chain of mountains in the distance, the border with Chile. Have lunch on the salar, a unique experience, then drive to Coquesa township, located at the base of the Tunupa Volcano. Take a short hike to the mummies' tomb, at least 900 years old. The return trip, takes you across the causeway where you can admire several flamingo and other birds feeding on the edges of the salt pan. As well, you will see the 'Eyes of Water'. Meanwhile, the sunset starts to develop and moments later, the red and gold rays flood the salt pan, What a fitting end to a special day.	Uyuni (B,L)

14	Thurs	Salt Flats – La Paz Transfer to the airport for a short flight to La Paz arriving in the world's highest capital city. Transfer to our central city to help adjust to the altitude. This afternoon enjoy a tour of the city in handicrafts, weavings and unusual witchcraft artefacts which are sold in the Challa. There are many offerings that can be bought and sold (mother earth and symbol of fertility). Visit the colonial part of the city, San Francisco Square and pass by the outdoor replica of Tiahuanaco temple. Visit the southern residential areas until you enter the Valley of the Moon and see the geological formations. Experience rides on 3 different telefericos, a system of cables connecting the heavily populated el Alto with several parts of La Paz. Accommodation: Rosario Hotel	La Paz (B)	take a rest to enjoy the markets, rich in traditional beliefs of the region (mother earth). Visit the Museum, Murillo and pass the geological section of the city, technology!
15	Fri	La Paz –World’s Most Spectacular Downhill Ride A 1day DOWNHILL ride of up to 65 km in length and with as much as 4,700m of vertical DESCENT to the jungle, with a few parts! This ride starts at the highest point, through mountain grasslands, past grazing llamas and alpacas, through the mist of the cloud forest and into the jungle (1200m). After the ride relax at La Senda Verde Cabins and Animal Refuge, the home of the snake, and other wild life. The ride is characterised by incredible challenge, as well as being a lot of fun! This trip has become one of “the must do” excursions in South America. The company we deal with has superb bikes, professional staff and great Health & Safety Procedures.	La Paz (B,L)	and some flat parrots, a variety of animals, it's a
16	Sat	La Paz – Copacabana Most of the day at leisure in La Paz. There is an opportunity for an optional tour to Tiahuanaco - the pre Inca ruins which are one of the oldest and enigmatic archaeological sites of South America. Or Mountain Bike Chacaltaya (once the world’s highest ski resort) to experience the world's greatest loss of altitude in a single day. Later this afternoon travel by bus over the altiplano with views of snow-capped peaks to Copacabana. Our lovely hotel is right on the shores of the lake. Accommodation: Rosario Copacabana Hotel	Copacabana (B)	tail with the

17	Sun	Copacabana – Sun Island - Puno Morning to relax and explore Copacabana. Optional visit by boat to the Island of the Sun, cradle of the Andean civilization, believed to be where the sun rose out of the lake. There's a bit of a climb up the terraces, but the view is in time for the bus to cross the border into Peru to our next destination, Puno. Accommodation: Qelqatani Hotel	Puno (B)	en to Copacabana
18	Mon	Puno – Cuzco Bus ride to Cuzco along the dramatic landscapes of the high plateau, with occasional views of tiny Andean villages and herds of llamas and vicunas. We will stop at the archaeological museum of Pucara (200BC-AD300), then to La Raya, the highest point of the route at 4335m. Continue to Sicuani for lunch then resume trip to Raqchi where there is an Inca Temple built to worship Wiracocha, one of the most important Inca gods. Our last stop is at Andahuaylillas, where there is a beautiful baroque church built at the beginning of the beautiful mural paintings. Arrive in Cuzco late afternoon and transfer to our centrally located hotel. Accommodation: Hacienda Plaza Hotel	Cusco (B,L)	enowned for its
19	Tues	Cuzco Take a walking tour of this lovely city. Cuzco is an incredible experience. The countryside is exceptionally beautiful, 3300m above sea level; here you will encounter a fine blend of Spanish and Inca cultures, colourful Quechua Indian markets, Inca temples and massive stone walls which form the foundations of the city, originally from Sacsayhuaman. Explore the Koricancha, a major Inca Temple and some of the stonework, impressive workmanship, which is sure to impress.	Cusco (B)
20	Wed	Cuzco – Sacred Valley Our bus will take you to the Laguna Huaypo near the village of our ride today. On old Inca trails you will cross the altiplano of Chinchero until reaching the ruins of Moray (3,450 m). The circular terraces of Moray had been an agricultural “research laboratory” of the Inca. The Inca took advantage of the difference in temperature from one terrace to the other (approx. 1.5 C) and created an irrigation system by water channels for the cultivation of different crop strains. On the other side of the Urubamba Valley you will see the dramatic snow-caps of the cordilleras Vilcabamba and Urubamba. After visiting the terraces of Moray a 20 km Andean downhill is waiting for you! In the afternoon you will reach the salt mines since pre-Hispanic times. Enjoy this extraordinary sight as well as the single tracks leading down to the Sacred Valley of the Inca. Accommodation: Sol Ollantay Hotel 35km of dirt road, moderate to challenging	Sacred Valley (B,L)
21	Thurs	Sacred Valley After leaving the Sacred Valley and driving to a crossroads close to the town of Totara, you will bike the uphill stretch on a gravel road to the Lares Pass at 4,400m. Surrounded by the snow-capped mountains of the Cordillera Urubamba, you will start your mountain bike downhill then go off road to join an old Inca trail. The trail takes you through a small canyon with some challenging riding. You will pass by secluded Andean communities, ride over Inca steps, narrow bridges and see evidence of old Inca burial sites in the towering walls of the canyon. Return to our hotel 40km of dirt road, moderate to challenging	Sacred Valley (B,L)	ndes – 2027

22	Fri	Sacred Valley – Agua Calientes – Optional Hike Inca Trail You will be transferred to the railway station to travel by train to Agua Calientes at the base of Machu Picchu. Explore the town, have a soak in the nearby thermal pools. Accommodation: Santuario Hotel For those wanting to experience the Inca Trail take the train to KM104 where you disembark to begin the full day hike to Machu Picchu. The one-day hike from Chachabamba to Machu Picchu is an excellent alternative to the full Inca Trail trek .Enjoy a beautiful day of moderate hiking en-route to Machu Picchu. On the 9.6km hike from the trailhead at the Vilcanota River footbridge, ascend a total of 800m. Just prior to reaching the Winya Wayna ruins you will reach a spectacular waterfall in a delightful cloud forest glade which offers the possibility of a refreshing shower on a hot day. This merges with the regular Inca Trail at Winya Wayna ruins. From Winya Wayna, most hikers take 1.5 hours for the mainly level walk along the spectacular Inca Trail to the final outlook at Inti Punku, the Gate of the Sun (2,700m). With stops for lunch (included) and photography, overall walking time is 6-7 hours. After arrival at Machu Picchu descend by bus to Agua Calientes.	Agua Calientes(B)
23	Sat	Machu Picchu – Cusco Another early morning start by bus up the Hiram Bingham zig zag road to Machu Picchu. The bus reaches the top and suddenly you can see the iconic LOST CITY OF THE INCAS. It's 'picture postcard perfect'! Later this afternoon return by rail to Cusco and transfer to your hotel. Accommodation: Hacienda Plaza Hotel	Cusco (B)
24	Sun	Depart Cusco Transfer to the airport	(B)
24	Sun	Tour Option Manu National Park 4Days/3 nights Travel through the Andean Highlands with its traditional communities until reaching the colonial village of Paucartambo (2900m). Stop at the beautiful Colonial Bridge then continue driving to the Ajanaco Pass (3550m), the last pass and entrance to the Manu National Park.Enjoy a great view over the eastern slopes of the Andes and the green canopy of the Amazon Jungle. You will look out over the Andes to the Amazon Rainforest that extends to the horizon.You will see the fascinating change from the desolate altiplano to the Cloud Forest of the Manu National Park with its rich fauna and flora. In the late afternoon you will reach the San Pedro River. A short jungle walk will take you to the Manu Paradise Lodge. This fascinating ecosystem is home to Peru's national bird, the Andean Cock-of-the-Rock, as well as Crested and Golden Quetzals, Blue-crowned Motmots, Gray-breasted Mountain Toucans, numerous species of butterflies and many kinds of ferns and colorful orchids	Manu (B,L,D)

25	Mon	Manu National Park Before breakfast, there is a walk in the cloud forest to see Peru's national bird, the cock-of-the-rock as it performs its daily ritual. There is a lot of activity in the trees, with groups of males putting on an impressive display to attract females. Return to the lodge for a delicious breakfast, before leaving for Pillcopata. There is a short orientation of this small town, then continue to the river and the small port of Atalaya, The area is rich in plantations of manioc, papaya, pineapple and coca leaves. These forests are home to squirrel and brown capuchin monkeys, and there will be a chance to spot a variety of birdlife: spix guans, plumbeous kites and black vultures. It's possible to hire a long boat and travel upstream to an Oxbow Lake, home to the very unusual Hoatzin birds. After the Oxbow Lake, there's a quick spin downstream to view some waterfalls, then the drive back to the lodge.	Manu Lodge (B,L,D)
26	Tues	Manu National Park One of the highlights of a trip to the Peruvian rainforest is an early-morning visit to the parrot clay lick. You will never forget watching hundreds of parrots gather at the mineral-rich riverbank clay deposit, where their noisy feeding display is a kaleidoscope of colors. You will observe Cuvier's toucans, red and green macaws, blue headed parrots and other species as they feed on the mineral-rich clay deposits. After breakfast you will visit a nearby oxbow lake where you might observe Hoatzins, Horned Screamers, Amazon Kingfishers, Caracaras, Solitary Eagles, Great Black Hawks, King Vultures, Cormorants, Roseate Spoonbills, Orinoco Geese, and numerous other species. The remainder of the morning will be spent searching for birds on the trails surrounding the lodge. After lunch you will take a boat back to Atalaya, where our car will be waiting to take you back to Paradise Lodge in comfort.	Manu Lodge (B,L,D)
27	Wed	Manu – Cuzco This morning, there's another opportunity to see more Cloud Forest's wildlife. After breakfast you will take the bus back to the Ajanaco Pass and then ride the downhill sector to Paucartambo. After lunch, travel to the Huachuqasa Pass (4170m) where you can enjoy the last bike ride back to the Sacred Valley of the Incas. You will arrive in Cuzco by bus in the afternoon and transfer to your hotel.	Cuzco (B,L)
28	Thurs	Depart Cusco Transfer to the airport	Cuzco (B)
